> THANKSGIVING DAY .- To-morrow will be the day set apart by the President of the United States as a day of thanksgiving. The observance in this city will be as usual mainly official. The Backs, Custom House, Commercial Exchange and city offices will be closed, and the Pestoffice will observe Sunday hours, but it is probable that but few business houses will be closed. Religious services will be held in St. Paul's, Christ, Grace and the Ucion Presbyterian Churches at 11 a. m. The Alex andria Reform Club will have services in the Baptist Church at 3 p. m., the club attending in a body.

ROBBERY. - On Monday night some unknown thiores went to the residence of Mr. McWilliams, at Mt. Zephyr, across Hunting Creek, broke open the bee bives and stele a quantity of houey. They then stole a horse from the stable, and brought their plunder to this city. The herse was turned loose here, and, starting home, was taken charge of by the bridge tender at Hunting Creek, and returned to its owner. Some negroes, who had been at work on the pisce as corn shuckers, are suspected of being core roed in the the!t.

A DUEL SPOILED .- At an early hour this morning a well known proper of Washington made his appearance at Rosslyn, near the Vir ginia end of the Long Bridge, where he waited for some time, and then returned to Washington. It transpired that he had made an arrangement with another resident of the District for a meeting in mortal combar, but the latter failed to put in an appearance. The affair caused considerable talk among the residents of the locality of Rosslyn.

AMUSEMENTS. - The literary cotortainment for the benefit of the Farriax Society Library, at the Episcopal High School, will take place to night.

The select hop of the M. S. Speials comes off at McBurney's Hall to morrow night, and will, doubtless, be an enjoyable coassion.
